The Salinas Union High School Class of 1941 are having their first reunion in twelve years on May 2, 1953, at the Cominos Hotel in Salinas, California.

If any of you former classmates are interested, you can either get in touch with Eleanor Grossman Cohen, 315 Camaritas Ave., San Francisco, Calif. or the Salinas Union High School in Salinas. Any of you Carmelites who have gone to school that far East, had better wiggle your pencil soon.

On Thursday evening, all the "nature boys" (and girls) had a fine visit to Crater Lake National Park by way of C. Edward Graves' color slides. Sunset auditorium is filled with trees and lakes every week on Tuesday, so if you are the least bit outdoorsy, pull on your hiking boots and trot down to Sunset next week, and see Grand Teton National Park .. plus Dinosaur National Monument.

Mr. and Mrs. Speirs Ruskell last week entertained their San Francisco cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eric W. Coster and son, Rory, at their home on Lobos Street.

Mr. Coster, a former resident of Carmel during the years he was a member of the Del Monte Press Bureau staff, has been assigned as publicity man for the Salinas Rodeo by the San Francisco advertising and public relations firm of Fred Gray and Associates.

He will reside in Salinas until after the Rodeo, which this year has been scheduled for July 16 to 19.

Just a few of the members of the Carmel Kiwanis Club missed a good lively meeting last Thursday, when Ted Fehring gave them some of the inside dope on the refereeing of the big football games. His partial travelogue of some 17,000 miles in eight weeks indicates that it's not all a question of accepting a small check and a large BOO from the partisan crowds. Come again, Ted!

The radar picket submarine, USS SPINAX (SSR 489) was operating in the vicinity of the Monterey Peninsula until yesterday, conducting training exercises. She anchored in Monterey Bay periodically for shore leave and liberty. The Commanding Officer is Lieutenant Commander P. L. Vissat, USN.

Dog lovers of the area will have a real treat in store for them come May 22, 23 and 24.

On the evening of May 22, the Cocker Spaniel Club will present their annual show. The next day, Saturday the 23rd, is the date of the Salinas Valley Kennel Club show, and on Sunday, the 24th, the big Del Monte Kennel Club show will be staged here on the Peninsula at the Del Monte Lodge.

Mrs. Winifred Heckman of Baltimore, Maryland, will act as one of the judges at all three shows. Mrs. Heckman is one of the prominent judges of the East, having served as a judge in the Westchester Kennel Club show this winter, as well as the Madison Square Garden show in New York City.

Derek Rayne, president of the Del Monte Club, has recently returned from Vancouver where he served as the judge of the Longview show. Following the show, Mr. Rayne was the principal speaker at the Judges Dinner and advised them of the trio of Peninsula shows mentioned above.

This will be the only three-day show on the Pacific Coast this season.

Personalities

This is the story of a great guy. Name: Bill Brown. Interviewed over a glass of beer at the Mission Inn, where, as manager, he was also doubling as bar tender. Bill had a great many interesting things to tell. It was in the pleasant atmosphrer of the Estrada room that he unfolded his fascinating personality. Readers are invited to climb up on a stool and listen while Bill relates some of his interesting adventures.

But before that, let's tell that Bill was born in Piedmont, California, along about 1912 ----- March 12, 1912, is the exact date.

He lived in Piedmont for seven years before the family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, the parents, and brother, Hamilton Brown, and sisters, Mrs. James Doud, Mrs. Robert Fitch, and Mrs. Robert Hart, moved to Carmel, in 1919.

Here young Bill was introduced to the Sunset school which was then but a single building back among a group of pine trees. In the beginning, Bill pondered the intricacies of two plus two, and the spelling of such words as C-A-T. Like his pals, he played in the dirt road which is now Carmel's main street, Ocean Avenue, except in those days it had the intriguing name of Marcel Wave.

"Those were the days, " says Bill, "life was interesting and adventurous. We entertained ourselves with deviltry. Among other things we enjoyed ourselves by giving Gus England (then Carmel's one-man police force) a bad time. Sometimes we went down to Cook's Cove and had a real, old-fashioned beach party. We never had any trouble finding something to do as long as the gang could be together."

"Then, too, as we grew older, our appetites for food increased. But fortunately, those were the days when one could buy a roast beef sandwich and a chocolate milk shake for thirty cents, "Bill continued.

Bill attended Monterey high school, graduated with the class of 1930, and then matriculated in the University of California. At the end of the prescribed course of four years, Bill received his college degree which he refers to as having been a "Bachelor of something or other." He insists this offered a pretty vague recommendation to present when persuing openings in the employment field, so, in order to make his qualification a bit more specific, Bill went east to Cornell. There he enrolled in the department of hotel management, graduating in 1938.

Now he was ready to start practising what the teachers at Cornell preached. His first job was with the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, where from outside reports, we understand his contributions were manifold.

Part of his responsibilities at the Palace was the booking of entertainment for that illustrious hotel. Top bands and entertainers were engaged by Bill. This phase of his work fascinated him and eventually he left the Palace and obtained employment with the William Morris Agency in Hollywood, "that bizarre capitol of glamour, camera and divorce," he remarks as he looks back upon those exciting days.

"It was great work," he says, and no wonder, for it was then his significant duty to assist with the bookings of such stars of the music world as Duke Ellington, Arty Shaw and his band, and Benny Goodman and his famous musical assemblage.

" I was rolling along and doing fine in this work," he continues, "until the war came along and reared its ugly head. So I joined the Air Force."

When asked what he did in the Air Force, Bill replied, "Just about everything .. from chief cook and bottle washer to the Special Service troops. The last assignment allowed me to see just about all of Europe."

After the war, Bill Brown went back to his old positiong with the William Morris Agency in Hollywood. There, in a short time, he began thinking about his old Monterey Peninsula haunts. The more he thought about it, the more he hankered to get back. He had practically made up his mind when along came an offer to go to Honolulu to manage the Muana Hotel. Putting aside his great desire to come back "home" he went to the Islands, but try as he might, he could not live down the urge to get back to the Peninsula. So back he came in 1950.

"Not only did I come back here to live, but I also "doed" it about this time. I married Carol Howard Stinebeck, and together we now live in a little vine-covered cottage on Scenic Avenue here in Carmel. We've both decided never more to roam.

NEWLYWEDS MR. AND MRS. DONALD A. BRASCH

Among recent honeymoon couples at Carmel Highlands Inn were Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Brasch, who were married by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray at Church of the Wayfarer. The ceremony was followed by a wedding reception at Highlands Inn.

The bride, former Miss Gloria Marilyn Murray, is daughter of Mrs. Marian Murray of La Jolla. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brasch of Detroit.

The newlyweds will make their home in Oakland.

Red Cross Acts As Guide for GI's Blind Wife

Life seemed barely worth living to the blind wife of a Florida inductee when the American Red Cross came to her rescue. Entirely dependent upon her husband since she had lost her sight three years earlier, without relatives, and fearful that someone might steal her few possessions, the despondent wife was unable to care for herself.

The door was bolted when the Red Cross chapter's Home Service worker called at the request of a Red Cross field director to whom the serviceman had appealed for help at his base. Afraid to leave the house, the blind woman also was afraid to light a match and therefore could not cook her meals. Neighbors had augmented her dwindling supply of food and paid her rent.

Red Cross action came fast. To meet immediate needs a supply of canned food was provided, since that did not require cooking. Later, arrangements were made through the Lighthouse for the Blind for church and Elks Auxiliary members to bring hot meals to her home several times a week.

Meanwhile, the serviceman applied for a dependency discharge that was granted after a Red Cross report on home conditions had been supplied.

In another example of Red Cross assistance, the Akron (Ohio) Chapter spent more than a year ferreting out evidence of a Spanish-American War veteran's 1920 marriage, to enable his widow to qualify for a pension. The couple had moved several times; and the aging woman had forgotten so many details of her married life that it took many months of effort to collect the necessary evidence to establish her right to a pension and a $732 check for back payments from the date of her husband's death.

These are but two of hundreds of thousands of instances in which Red Cross chapters and national field staff helped make life easier for servicemen, veterans, and members of their families last year.

Included were such services as consultation on, and assistance with, family problems; verification of the need for emergency leaves or dependency discharges which are granted solely by military authorities; financial assistance; and assistance in filing claims for governmental benefits.

PENINSULA PETS, INC.

"And they lived happily ever after" .. might well be your thought if you could watch as a boy with his new dog, or a little girl with her new kitty, march away with the pet acquired from Peninsula Pets, Inc., an organization devoted to finding good homes for otherwise unwanted pets.

Their office is located near 7th on Lincoln, phone 7-4409. The "gift shop" there is stocked with donated merchandise.

Increased Mainly to Get Globulin for Victims of Polio

To finance expanded service programs, including the collection and processing of thousands of additional pints of blood for conversion into gamma globuiin -- new weapon against polio -- the American Red Cross will launch its annual fund campaign March 1 for $93,000,000, largest goal since the war years.

"This is an increase of $8,000,000 over last year," E. Roland Harriman, national Red Cross president, said, "largely to expand the Red Cross defense blood collections for the production of gamma globulin, which prevents paralysis from poliomyelitis.

Funds also were added to provide a Red Cross recreation program for able-bodied servicemen abroad.

"The Red Cross was asked to undertake the polio assignment last November by the Office of Defense Mobilization, in an effort to meet the summer's epidemic needs. Additional costs to the Red Cross for equipment, personnel and processing will total $7,000,000. We must draw heavily upon the generosity of the American people -- both for blood and money -- to meet this urgent need."

Leroy A. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, national chairman of the campaign, will lead approximately 1,600,000 volunteers throughout the country in the month-long canvass for funds.

"Public support of the Red Cross this year is vital," Mr. Lincoln said. Its responsibilities are greater than at any time since World War II. Members of the armed forces call upon it each month at military installations and hospitals in more than 355,000 cases and requests. Now we are preparing to expand that service to include recreation for able-bodied servicemen abroad. In addition, the threat of disaster and the distress it brings is ever present and the need to bolster our home defense is growing."

The Red Cross spent $38,116,276 in services to the armed forces and veterans in the 1951-52

RANGER PARK JOBS

Summer jobs as seasonal rangers in the National Park Service will be filled by a U. S. Civil Service examination, announced today by Fred Strong, Civil Service Secretary at the Carmel Post Office.

Seasonal rangers and ranger-naturalists will be employed at various points in California, Nevada and Arizona. Pay is $264 a month. Appointees must purchase their own uniforms, costing approximately $100.

Men only are desired for seasonal ranger. Age limits are 18 to 62 (the maximum is waived for veterans).

Applicants must have two years of progressive experience in responsible work appropriate to the position, or can substitute college education for experience, (one year of education for nine months of experience).

Park rangers must be healthy, emotionally and mentally stable, and able to endure arduous exertion and under rigorous and unusual outdoor conditions.

Applications must be filed before March 10 with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, 630 Sansome St., San Francisco 11, Calif. Forms can be obtained from that office or from Mr. Strong at the Carmel Post Office.

Disaster strikes in Arkansas and immediately the nation-wide resources of the Red Cross are mobilized for aid to the victims.

A Pennsylvania serviceman in Korea needs advice and help with a problem at home and gets it from the Red Cross field director attached to his unit.

An accident victim in Georgia receives life-giving blood from a Red Cross blood center.

Every day throughout the nation and the world the Red Cross contribution you make here at home is at work -- in your behalf -- to relieve distress, save a life, comfort the stricken. Your dollars make Red Cross service possible wherever and whenever it is needed.

That is why the Red Cross emblem should be on your lapel -- a sign that you have given -- a symbol to be worn proudly. It will be your mark of personal identification with a great humanitarian cause. It means that you care enough about your neighbor across the street or across the nation -- to extend him a helping hand in his hour of need.

It is also a vivid reminder to others to share in this spirit of giving so that no call for help need to unanswered, no matter where or when it rises. This year more than ever in a still troubled world, wear your Red Cross emblem to remind others -- that they may share in meeting it as you have.

Three speckled squirrels in cage (foreground) were a continual source of amusement to Tularcitos Volunteer Firemen and their ladies last Saturday night, when the rural smokeaters held their semi-annual "Reno Night" with buffet supper at the Firehouse. The barrier in the picture was not to keep visitors nor to eat on as (left to right) Hugh Erwin, Sherman Jones, Bob Mottern, Lou Allaire and Pat Mottern are doing. The firemen didn't say why it was erected. The house -- pardon us -- the firehouse, made over forty dollars that night by voluntary contributions of its members.

G.E. MAGIC SHOW

Music is sent across the stage on a light beam, a man shakes hands with his own shadow, a toy electric train obeys spoken commands to "Stop," "Go Ahead," and "Back," and an electric light bulb is lighted with a match ..

These and many other startling scientific phenomena will be featured in General Electric's "House of Matic" show Wednesday, February 25, at 8 PM, in the Carmel High School Auditorium.

Currently touring 77 Northern and Central California communities under Pacific Gas and Electric Company sponsorship, the show is now in its 18th season, and in all that time the instructive and entertaining show has played throughout the nation to nearly 14 million people.

Tickets are available without charge at local G. E. appliance outlets, and P. G. and E.'s local office.

One of many amazing features in the show is that of a whirling aircraft propeller which "stands still," a demonstration performed with a flashing stroboscopic light and a miniature propeller, spinning at 1,800 revolutions per minute. Synchronized with the flashing strobelight, the "prop" blades appear stationary.

Highly useful in research, stroboscopic light permits scientists and engineers to "slow down" rapidly moving parts of machinery for study.

The name "House of Magic" originally was given to the G.E.'s Research Laboratory by the late Floyd Gibbons, noted author, radio commentator and foreign correspondent.

X-RAY PROGRAM

Now is the time to get your annual free chest X-ray. The chest X-ray program conducted by the Monterey County Health Department as a public health service has been in operation for one year.

This mobile chest X-ray unit was donated to the County of Monterey by the Monterey County Health and Tuberculosis Association who help support this program with funds received through the sale of Christmas seals. During the past year, 18,157 free chest X-rays were taken throughout the county. After further clinical and diagnostic studies 33 suspected cases of tuberculosis discovered through this service were found to be definite cases of tuberculosis. These cases are now under private physician, sanatorium or county chest clinic service for treatment and cure. Seventy-nine other suspected cases of the chest and throat, such as lung cancer and tumor, and 214 suspected heart cases were also found through this chest X-ray service.

These suspected cases of disease of the chest, throat and heart were also turned over to their private physicians for further diagnostic studies, care and treatment.

The unit will be in Carmel in front of the new Post Office Monday, March 16, from 1:00 to 5:00 PM.

SKI TRIP

The Carmel High School's Annual Ski Trip, February 12th to 15th to Yosemite proved most satisfactory, in spite of a few casualties, although the percentage was remarkably low, considering that there were over seventy participants. The group is enthusiastic due to Mr. Miller's inspiring leadership and only wish they could go oftener.

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

THE GREATEST BUICK
IN 50 GREAT YEARS

THE getaway of any 1953 Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is, in one word, dazzling.

Two things account for this. First: increased horsepowers and compression ratios. Second: Buick's new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive.*

In every SUPER and ROADMASTER for 1953 is a new kind of V8 Engine—the first Fireball V8—and the world's most advanced V8, first in any passenger car to reach 8.5 to 1 compression. In every SPECIAL is a newly designed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine with the highest horsepower and compression ever offered in this Series.

To get fullest benefit from these brilliant engines, Buick engineers designed a new Dynaflow with two turbines instead of one.

Result: flash-fast getaway—less sound—and improved efficiency—added to the infinite smoothness of this power transfer. Getaway that brings the 1953 Buick SPECIAL up to 30 mph in fewer seconds than the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER.

But these Golden Anniversary Buicks put you way ahead in more than time and distance.

You're way out front in style, in comfort, in ride, in handling ease—and, very definitely, in value.

We'd like to prove that to you—while you're sampling any one of the greatest Buicks in fifty great years. Why not drop in this week?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

OPERA STAR LEONARD WARREN

Leonard Warren, distinguished Metropolitan Opera baritone who sings at Sunset Auditorium, tonight, February 27 at 8:30, established last September an annual scholarship for a gifted young singer.

The scholarship will provide a year's instruction under Mr. Warren's own voice teacher, Sidney Dietch in New York City. Any singer under the age of 30 is eligible for the auditions which are to be held on November 1 of each year. Inquiries should be addressed to the Leonard Warren Scholarship, 160 West 73rd St., New York City.

In announcing the Scholarship, Mr. Warren said: "As an artist whose career was furthered thru the generous help of a patron, Mr. George A. Martin of Cleveland, I feel I can best repay my debt of gratitude by, in turn, giving young singers whatever aid I can."

Mr. Warren, widely regarded as the world's finest dramatic baritone, reached the Metropolitan through winning the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air. This season he is celebrating his fifteenth season with the New York Company, singing such roles as Rigoletto, Amonasro in "Aida," Barnaba in "La Gioconda," Tonio in "Pagliacci," and Don Carlo in the opening night "La Forza del Destino."

ARNOLD EDMAN

Arnold Edman, faculty member at Monterey High School, will be the speaker for the Men of the Wayfarer on Wednesday, February 25th.

ORGAN VESPERS

Wm. James Farlinger and Leilani Greenley, soprano, will be the featured soloists at the second one in this year's series of Organ Vespers at the Church of the Wayfarer on Wednesday, February 25th, from 5:15 to 6:00 PM.

MAKING RUNNING WATER RUN

Men work on earth at many things:
Some till the soil, a few are kings;
But the noblest job beneath the sun
Is making RUNNING WATER run!

Some may extol the glamor boys
Who bring you heat and light and noise,
Delivered through a pipe or wire
To make your living standard higher.

Now kilowatts may light your house
And gas may cook your quail and grouse,
And fry your meat or even boil it—
But neither one will flush your toilet!

Let's not forget old Doctor Bell
Who showed us how to talk so well
Through many miles of tiny wire—
But talk's no good to quench a fire!

Your radio blares forth each day
To bring you music, joke and play,
Or sell you soap, if you would rather—
But soap alone won't make a lather!

Now none of this is really news
About utilities you use;
You know, if you could choose but one,
You'd have your RUNNING WATER run!

We're on the job both night and day
And yet we work for more than pay,
Because, to us it's really fun
TO make your RUNNING WATER run.

Snapped in her dressing room during rehearsals is Rosamond Goodrich, who plays Princess Anne in "The Queen's Husband," Robert Emmet Sherwood's dramatic comedy opening March 5 at Golden Bough Playhouse. Rosamond recently came to Carmel from South-Africa, thus is a newcomer to Peninsula stage productions.

- - Arthur McEwen photo

THE QUEEN'S HUSBAND COMING SOON

"The Queen's Husband", comedy-drama by Robert Sherwood, will be the first "legitimate" play to be enacted by a local cast in the newly-restored Golden Bough Playhouse. The play will open next Thursday night, March 5th, at eight-thirty, and will play the weekend, Thursday through Saturday, also on the same days the following weekend.

Edward Kuster, directing the production, says that during the last twenty years he has had scores of requests for a revival of this amusing and colorful play, which was presented in 1931 by a Peninsula cast headed by the late Galt Bell, with Gertrude Bardarson as the Queen, and Connie Heron as Princess Anne.

Robert Sherwood's other plays include "The Road to Rome", "Idiot's Delight", "Reunion in Vienna", "There Shall Be No Night", "Waterloo Bridge", and several additional Broadway and international successes. He is recognized as one of America's foremost dramatists. "The Queen's Husband" is critically rated as a brilliant example of high comedy at its finest.

This popular vehicle should appeal to all those who enjoy theater at its best and players who know and enjoy working in it.

The cast consists in the main of well-known Peninsula players, but there are several interesting newcomers with sound theatrical backgrounds. Following is the list, in the order of appearance in the play.

Frederick Granton, private secretary to King Eric V111	Howard Levinson
Phipps, footman to the King	Norman Romwell
The Marquis of Birten, Foreign Secretary	Mark Guerin
Petley, footman in the royal apartments	Larry Rose
Princess Anne	Rosamund Goodrich
Queen Martha	Barbara Norberg
Maids-in-waiting	Nancy Woolever, Lucy Elstob
General Northrup, Premier of the Kingdom and Minister of War	Frank Putnam
The King	Lloyd Weer
Dr. Fellman, leader of the Opposition	George Smith
Major Blent, commander of the Palace Guard	Jimmy Griffin
Soldiers	Lee Crowe, William Kappy
Prince William of Greck	Glenn Kearns
Laker, an anarchist	Ric Masten

Mr. Sherwood has set his stage in the private office of the King of an imagined country situated on an imagined island "somewhere between the British Isles and Denmark". Since writing the play the author must have been amazed at seeing some of his fancied situations, humorous and otherwise, duplicated in the real life of nations. There is, for instance, a "good-will" visit to America by the Queen -- and she gets what she really goes for. Don't they all? And there is a royal abdication almost brought off by the author that is singularly reminiscent of the subsequent withdrawal from public life by Edward V1 of England. But the exciting and ecstatic elopment of the Princess Royal with a commoner is Sherwood's own idea, with the King taking a delightful part in the proceedings!

It is, in substance, the story of a shy, diffident and democratic king, obviously out of place as a "ruler" of people. Dominated by the imperious and dynamic Queen, bullied or ignored by his Ministers, getting a surreptitious enjoyment out of life by visiting the zoo and by playing checkers with his footman, the King suddenly rises to the occasion, and with the most engaging informality he quells a revolution, outwits his too-clever Ministers, and gains the astonished respect of the Queen. All in all, a colorful and amusing behind-the-scenes view of royalty off-parade, living a precarious life and engaged in a difficult job -- a job, quips King Eric, "with no future in it". CHARLES LAUGHTON

The great actor, Charles Laughton, star of motion pictures, radio and television will give one of his exciting drama-comedy recitals from his extensive repertoire, on Sunday afternoon in Carmel at the Sunset School Auditorium at 2:30, in person.

Since he appeared here two years ago, also under Alice Seckel's management, he has crossed the United States three times and toured Canada, England, Ireland and Scotland. Sold out houses are the rule as was the case here and indications point again to capacity.

Reading aloud is a work of love to Mr. Laughton, who said in an interview, "People often ask me for advice on how to read aloud. I have no formula. One should read in a natural voice, feel comfortable and easy. That is all."

With this formula, Laughton brings to life characters which virtually seem to people the stage. His material is varied and cont'd on page 12

STAMP CLUB MEET

Since the speaker, Sergeant Irving D. Wait, was transferred, his talk on German stamps scheduled for the meeting Monday, February 16, was replaced by a "jam" session.

E. R Blankenship presided; coffee and cakes were served by Manuel Joseph and Tom Dudley. The door prize, won by Abbott Silva, consisted of a $1 purchasing order at Stallings Stamp Shop. At a previous meeting, it was voted to do away with packets of stamps for door prizes and issue purchase orders. In this way, the winner may choose his stamps.

President Blankenship announced that the next meeting will be an auction conducted by Arch Gibson at 8 PM, March 2nd in the Carmel High School. Members and others are requested to bring their duplicates or any material for sale. The auctioneer guarantees sales. It is also advisable to "be prepared" with small change, silver dollars or

THE QUEEN'S HUSBAND

The action of the play is swift and the dialogue crisp and entertaining. The satirical bits are good-humored, and the entire proceedings are carried out with the light touch that is characteristic of Sherwood.

As The Crow Flies

By Ric Masten

I sit down in front of this monstrous contraption, the typewriter and poise my fingers and mind for a Crow Frying thought. I pull a blank, what to write about. There is no juicy problem in town this week, so I turn to the world situation:

But there isn't much to write about,
Except impending fighting,
For Stalin scatters fright about,
And sets himself for smiting.

And when he throws his might about,
And hunts for things to fight about,
There isn't much to write about,
But everybody's writing.

The "FISHNET" display in the window of Studiocraft Shops just opposite the Carmel Art Gallery and behind Bishop Kneedler's, is really worth a look .. before you know it, you're drawn inside to see the fascinating handcraft, such as the "palette tray" or the ash trays actually cast from the skins of baby cantaloupe -- in fact practically everything in the shops are made by local artisans.

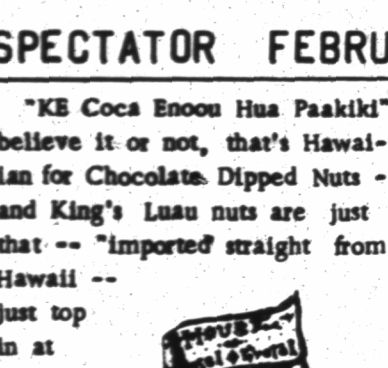
TOM'S CAFE (on Dolores between Ocean and 7th) where "Native" Peninsulaites gather for good (and reasonably priced, too) food -- either American or Chinese -- and good talk -- has an added "conversation piece" .. the aquarium in the back is really worth a "LOOK SEE".

- - - - - - - -

I fell into a "BROWN STUDY" while looking in the window of Harriet Duncan's Shop -- just look for yourself, and you'll do the same. Indeed, here is the shop that has "Highlights in Fashion to Spark Your Casual Life!"

"KE Coca Enoou Hua Paakiki" believe it or not, that's Hawaiian for Chocolate Dipped Nuts - and King's Luau nuts are just that -- "imported" straight from Hawaii -- just top in at the --- on 6th - near Dolores if you want an unusual gift for that friend with a "Sweet' tooth". The shop itself carries out the Hansel and Gretel motif -- I loved the nonchalant clown draped in the window of Hansel and Gretel's cottage!



Sybell E. Faul and her husband of the Rib'n Tucker Shop have just returned from a buying trip to New York and are adding a complete new line .. a Boy's Department.

In order to accommodate this new department -- they are having a remodeling job done which should be ready within the next two weeks -- in the meantime, it's business as usual.

I went into ecstasies over the "Watermelon Dress" with graduated checks just right for dainty daughter .. and a stunning.. not "Body by Fischer" but "Coat by Fischer"... for the young lady" of fashion, and the exquisite, feminine, dainty lingerie will win

Captain George K. Fraser (standing at left) relieved Capt. John S. Tracy (right) as Director of the General Line School at the Naval Postgraduate School in ceremonies held in the Copper Cup Room during a staff luncheon Friday noon, February 6. Captain Tracy will become the Commanding Officer of the Naval Station at Argentia, Newfoundland. Captain Fraser was formerly Chief of Staff to the Commander of Carrier Division III in Korean waters. The figures in the scene shown in the background are a bas-relief-type painting entitled "La Novia" (The Bride), representing a Spanish period of California history by the artist, Jo Mora, and was a part of the Hotel Del Monte property purchased by the Navy in 1947. Seated at the table are (left to right) Captain Charles E. Robertson, Commander Roger F. Miller, and Lt. J. W. Cummings.
